CPJ Electrics demonstrates commitment to trading fairly with Buy With Confidence Trading Standards scheme

CPJ Electrics, provider of electrical services to domestic customers in Wokingham & the surrounding area, is pleased to announce that it has successfully undergone assessment with Bracknell Trading Standards and is now a Member of the Buy with Confidence Scheme.

This means that CPJ Electrics has demonstrated its ability to comply with relevant legislation, resolve any consumer complaints in a fair and timely manner and understand their obligations to consumers.

Chris Jamieson of CPJ Electrics, who will have to undergo annual inspections by Trading Standards to ensure the firm continues to meet standards said: "CPJ Electrics prides itself on providing a quality service to customers, and our approval to the Buy with Confidence Scheme demonstrates our commitment to providing a fair & honest service to our customers"

To achieve membership CPJ Electrics had to undergo a series of detailed background checks. Membership of the scheme is not given lightly – amongst other checks, CPJ Electrics had their complaints history reviewed and received a visit from Trading Standards. Good references were required from previous customers and agreement to abide by the scheme's code of conduct, which requires them to follow the letter and spirit of the law. Criminal records disclosure were also required in some circumstances.

About CPJ Electrics

CPJ Electrics is a local organisation serving the electrical installation needs of clients in Wokingham & surrounding area. The focus is on domestic electrical work and inspection & testing - portable appliance testing for smaller organisations (PAT) and domestic electrical safety reports. Whilst other organisations may say "no job too small" this is very much a focus for us, as existing customer have stated.
